FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS*A. Background

13. The hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church and, by implication these Defendants, have been aware of the serious problem of clergy sexual abuse of children since at least the 1800s.

14. Further, Roman Catholic Church officials, including these Defendants, have used their power and influence to prevent victims and their families from disclosing allegations of abuse.

15. Additionally, Plaintiff's relationship to Defendants and Beck, as a vulnerable child and student at Fordham Prep was one in which Plaintiff was subject to the ongoing influence of Defendants and Beck, Plaintiff's abuser.

B. Specific Allegations

16. At all times material, Fernand Beck ("Beck") was a lay teacher employed by the Archdiocese, Jesuits and Fordham Prep. Beck remained under the direct supervision, employ, and control of Defendants.

17. Defendants placed Beck in positions where he had access to and worked with children as an integral part of his work.

18. Plaintiff was raised in a devout Roman Catholic family and attended Fordham Prep in Bronx, in the Archdiocese. Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family came in contact with Beck as an agent and representative of Defendants, and at Fordham Preparatory School.

19. Plaintiff, as a youth, participated in activities at Fordham Prep. Plaintiff, therefore, developed great admiration, trust, reverence, and respect for the Roman Catholic Church, including Defendants and their agents, including Beck. During and through these activities, Plaintiff, as a minor and vulnerable child, was dependent on Defendants and Beck. Defendants had custody of Plaintiff and accepted the entrustment of Plaintiff and, therefore, had responsibility for Plaintiff and authority over Plaintiff.

20. From approximately 1981 to 1982, when Plaintiff was approximately 15 to 16 years old, Beck engaged in unpermitted sexual contact with Plaintiff.

COUNT I: NEGLIGENCE

21. Plaintiff realleges paragraphs 1-20 above.

22. Each Defendant owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care to protect the Plaintiff from injury.

23. Each Defendant owed Plaintiff a duty of care because each Defendant had a special relationship with Plaintiff.

24. Defendants also had a duty arising from the special relationship that existed with Plaintiff, Plaintiff's parents, and other parents of young, innocent, vulnerable children in the Archdiocese of New York to properly train and supervise their clerics, employees and agents. This special relationship arose because of the high degree of vulnerability of the children entrusted to their care. As a result of this high degree of vulnerability and risk of sexual abuse inherent in such a special relationship, Defendants had a duty to establish measures of protection not necessary for persons who are older and better able to safeguard themselves.

25. Each Defendant owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from harm because each Defendant also had a special relationship with Beck.

26. Defendants owed Plaintiff a duty of reasonable care because they solicited youth and parents for participation in their youth programs; encouraged youth and parents to have the youth participate in their programs; undertook custody of minor children, including Plaintiff; promoted their facilities and programs as being safe for children; held their agents, including Beck, out as safe to work with children; encouraged parents and children to spend time with their agents; and/or encouraged their agents, including Beck, to spend time with, interact with, and recruit children.

27. By accepting custody of the minor Plaintiff, Defendants established an in loco parentis relationship with Plaintiff and in so doing, owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from injury. Further, Defendants entered into a fiduciary relationship with Plaintiff by undertaking the custody, supervision of, and/or care of the minor Plaintiff. As a result of Plaintiff being a minor, and by Defendants undertaking the care and guidance of the Plaintiff, Defendants also held a position of empowerment over Plaintiff. Further, Defendants, by holding themselves out as being able to provide a safe environment for children, solicited and/or accepted this position of empowerment. Defendants, through its employees, exploited this power over Plaintiff and, thereby, put the minor Plaintiff at risk for sexual abuse.

28. By establishing and/or operating the Archdiocese and Fordham Prep, accepting the minor Plaintiff as a participant in their programs, holding their facilities and programs out to be a safe environment for Plaintiff, accepting custody of the minor Plaintiff in loco parentis, and by establishing a fiduciary relationship with Plaintiff, Defendants entered into an express and/or implied duty to properly supervise Plaintiff and provide a reasonably safe environment for children, who participated in their programs. Defendants owed Plaintiff a duty to properly supervise Plaintiff to prevent harm from foreseeable dangers. Defendants had the duty to exercise the same degree of care over young parishioners under their control as a reasonably prudent person would have exercised under similar circumstances.

29. By establishing and operating the Archdiocese and Fordham Prep, which offered educational programs to children and which may have included a school, and by accepting the enrollment and participation of the minor Plaintiff as a participant in those educational programs, Defendants owed Plaintiff a duty to properly supervise Plaintiff to prevent harm from generally foreseeable dangers.

30. Each Defendant owed Plaintiff a duty to protect Plaintiff from harm because Defendants invited Plaintiff onto their property and Beck posed a dangerous condition on Defendants' property.

31. Each Defendant breached its duties to Plaintiff. Defendants failed to use ordinary care in determining whether their facilities were safe and/or determining whether they had sufficient information to represent their facilities as safe. Defendants' breach of their duties include, but are not limited to: failure to protect Plaintiff from a known danger, failure to have sufficient policies and procedures in place to prevent child sex abuse, failure to properly implement policies and procedures to prevent child sex abuse, failure to take reasonable measures to ensure that policies and procedures to prevent child sex abuse were working, failure to adequately inform families and children of the risks of child sex abuse, failure to investigate risks of child molestation, failure to properly train the employees at institutions and programs within Defendants' geographical confines, failure to train the parishioners within Defendants' geographical confines about the dangers of sexual abuse by clergy, failure to have any outside agency test their safety procedures, failure to protect the children in their programs from child sex abuse, failure to adhere to the applicable standard of care for child safety, failure to investigate the amount and type of information necessary to represent the institutions, programs, leaders and people as safe, failure to train their employees properly to identify signs of child molestation by fellow employees, failure by relying upon mental health professionals, and/or failure by relying on people who claimed that they could treat child molesters.

32 Defendants also breached their duty to Plaintiff by failing to warn Plaintiff and Plaintiff's family of the risk that Beck posed and the risks of child sexual abuse in Catholic institutions. They also failed to warn them about any of the knowledge that Defendants had about child sexual abuse.

33. Defendants additionally violated a legal duty by failing to report known and/or suspected abuse of children by Beck and/or its other agents to the police and law enforcement.

34. Prior to the sexual abuse of Plaintiff, Defendants learned or should have learned that Beck was not fit to work with children. Defendants, by and through their agents, servants and/or employees, became aware, or should have become aware of Beck's propensity to commit sexual abuse and of the risk to Plaintiff's safety. At the very least, Defendants knew or should have known that they did not have sufficient information about whether or not their leaders and people working at Fordham Prep and other Catholic institutions within the Archdiocese of New York were safe.

35. Defendants knew or should have known that there was a risk of child sex abuse for children participating in Catholic programs and activities within the Archdiocese. At the very least, Defendants knew or should have known that they did not have sufficient information about whether or not there was a risk of child sex abuse for children participating in Catholic programs and activities within the Archdiocese.

36. Defendants knew or should have known that Defendants had numerous agents who had sexually molested children. Defendants knew or should have known that child molesters have a high rate of recidivism. They knew or should have known that there was a specific danger of child sex abuse for children participating in their youth programs.

37. However, despite this knowledge, Defendants negligently deemed that Beck was fit to work with children and/or that any previous suitability problems Beck had were fixed and cured; and/or that Beck would not sexually molest children; and/or that Beck would not injure children.

38. Defendants' actions created a foreseeable risk of harm to Plaintiff. As a vulnerable child participating in the programs and activities Defendants offered to minors, Plaintiff was a foreseeable victim. Additionally, as a vulnerable child who Beck had access to through Defendants' facilities and programs, Plaintiff was a foreseeable victim.

39. As a direct result of the foregoing, Plaintiff sustained physical, emotional, and psychological injuries, along with pain and suffering. The sexual abuse and resulting injuries to Plaintiff were caused solely and wholly by reason of the negligent failures of Defendants.

COUNT II: NEGLIGENT TRAINING AND SUPERVISION OF EMPLOYEES

40. Plaintiff realleges paragraphs 1-39 above.

41. At all times material, Beck was employed by Defendants and was under each Defendant's direct supervision, employ, and control when he committed the wrongful acts alleged herein. Beck engaged in the wrongful conduct while acting in the course and scope of his employment with Defendants and/or accomplished the sexual abuse by virtue of his job-created authority.

42. Defendants had a duty, arising from their employment of Beck, to ensure that he did not sexually molest children.

43. Further, Defendants owed a duty to train and educate employees and administrators and establish adequate and effective policies and procedures calculated to detect, prevent, and address inappropriate behavior and conduct between agents and children.

44. Defendants were negligent in the training, supervision, and instruction of their employees. Defendants failed to timely and properly educate, train, supervise, and/or monitor their agents or employees with regard to policies and procedures that should be followed when sexual abuse of a child is suspected or observed. Defendants were additionally negligent in failing to supervise, monitor, chaperone, and/or investigate Beck and/or in failing to create, institute, and/or enforce rules, polices, procedures, and/or regulations to prevent Beck's sexual abuse of Plaintiff. In failing to properly supervise Beck, and in failing to establish such training procedures for employees and administrators, Defendants failed to exercise the degree of care that a reasonably prudent person would have exercised under similar circumstances.

45. As a direct result of the foregoing, Plaintiff sustained physical, emotional, and psychological injuries, along with pain and suffering. The sexual abuse and resulting injuries to Plaintiff were caused solely and wholly by reason of the negligent failures of Defendants in the training and/or supervising of its employees.

COUNT III: NEGLIGENT RETENTION OF EMPLOYEES

46. Plaintiff realleges paragraphs 1-45 above.

47. At all times material, Beck was employed by Defendants and was under each Defendant's direct supervision, employ, and control when he committed the wrongful acts alleged herein.

48. Defendants negligently retained Beck with knowledge of Beck's propensity for the type of behavior which resulted in Plaintiff's injuries in this action. Defendants failed to investigate Beck's past and/or current history of sexual abuse and, through the exercise of reasonable diligence, should have known of Beck's propensity for child sexual abuse. Defendants should have made an appropriate investigation of Beck and failed to do so. An appropriate investigation would have revealed the unsuitability of Beck for continued employment and it was unreasonable for Defendants to retain Beck in light of the information they knew or should have known.

49. Defendants negligently retained Beck in a position where he had access to children and could foreseeably cause harm which Plaintiff would not have been subjected to had Defendants taken reasonable care.

50. In failing to timely remove Beck from working with children or terminate the employment of Beck, Defendants failed to exercise the degree of care that a reasonably prudent person would have exercised under similar circumstances.

51. As a direct result of the foregoing, Plaintiff sustained physical, emotional, and psychological injuries, along with pain and suffering. The sexual abuse and resulting injuries to Plaintiff were caused solely and wholly by reason of the negligent failures of Defendants in the retention of its employees.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, based on the foregoing causes of action, Plaintiff prays for judgment against Defendants in an amount that will fully and fairly compensate Plaintiff for Plaintiff's injuries and damages, and for any other relief the Court deems appropriate. The amount of damages sought in this Complaint exceeds the jurisdictional limits of all lower courts which would otherwise have jurisdiction.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff demands a trial by jury of all issues so triable. Pursuant to §4 of the New York Child Victims Act, Plaintiff is entitled to a trial preference.
